Among the many extraordinary and unusual jobs Jema pursued before writing took hold was that of wedding cake designer and decorator. Her devotion to culinary perfection is second only to her pursuit of the ideal corset as she toils in her little studio, making beautiful things from fabric, beads, wire and string, as well as cake and icing. Her work is exhibited in museums and galleries across Great Britain, and she has a large international fan base among the Steampunk and altered art communities. 'Emily Ladybird' is Jema's Steampunk alter ego, who leads a terribly exciting life, hunting down treasures for auctioneers Dickens and Rivett while attending parties with leading figures from Victorian history and fiction. You can find out lots more at www.steampunkjewellery.co.uk. Emily also has her own Facebook fan page at

This is a great recipe book! I loved the push-up feature on one of the cakes! I went right out to buy some and made the cakes myself. Also, I'm not a baker really, but the edible glitter was amazing! The photos in the book are wonderful and make one want to run right out and start baking the treats immediately! Just a short update- I made the push-up cakes... everyone just oooed and ahhed over them!

This was a gift and she loved it. It has great recipes and the themes are fun with good pictures. A fun book.

Great book...Gave it as a gift to my son who loves steampunk and tea.

Some fun recipes for a steampunk themed get together. The book had some nice pictures. One of my more unusual recipe books for the collection

great ideas for tea

This book is a definite must have for anyone who loves Steampunk or just enjoys tea! The themes and recipes are fun and imaginative. And the book is filled with are tons of beautiful photos that awe and inspire.

This is a gift, if you want a run of the mill tea party book this is not for you, but if you have been searching for something a bit different this is heaven. Great photos, nice recipes are well written. Hope to be invited to tea once the gift is received.

I love the layout of this book. It made for interesting reading plus most of the recipes are calling to me to make them up. I am so looking forward to making most of these recipes.
