Customer Reviews

My son has always suffered a bit in reading and writing due to Autism, but not with these books. He is delighted with every box set I've ordered. Not only does he adore them, but he reads them with lightening speed, and rereads every possible ending! As a parent, we can all appreciate any time they spend off of screens, and these books provide that relief. Can't be any happier with this purchase. Outdated material is not an issue here. We love them!

Maybe a bit more on the science fiction side than my son wanted, but he's still reading them, and that's the goal!

My son is a very reluctant reader. He has mild autism that comes with a reading disability. He was held back in the third grade by my request, and even with that was always 1-2 years behind his grade level. This year he is in 5th grade. Since I purchased these for him, he has been voluntarily reading. He carries these books with him to school and is excited to "find out what will happen next". At the beginning of this year, his reading level was grade 3.5. Yesterday he did his AR test at school and he is a 5.1!! This is since he began reading these books. I finally found something that hooks him into a story. He doesn't understand all of the words, but since he is into the story, he can get the word in context. This is a new skill for him. A "must buy" for those reluctant readers!

My son loves these books. He keeps reading them over and over.

My boys really enjoy these stories and the books were shipped quickly.

I have always loved this series, and I was glad to see it re-introduced 10 years after it originally ended in syndication. They were updated slightly, but this particular collection includes some of the early classics, particularly Race Forever. For the price, you can't beat it.

My children always love to read a good book but read them so quickly and are always left saying, "Now what?". This collection has been a great addition to our library keeping my 7 year old son entertained and eager to read the other books in this collection. If your child loves to read and loves a good adventure I highly recommend the Choose Your Own Adventure books! We shopped around for the best price and could not be beat.

Bought it for my class. They love it! Some of the kids that were not interested in reading became interested after reading these books!
