

The book was found

The New Atlantis And The City Of The Sun: Two Classic Utopias

Synopsis

Two authors from The Age of Reason and Enlightenment, in keeping with the spirit of their times, envisioned their own philosophical and intellectual utopias. Tomasso Campanella, a Calabrian monk, published The City of the Sun in 1623, and Francis Bacon's The New Atlantis appeared in 1627. Campanella was a student of logic and physics who formulated the first scientifically based socialistic system – one that furnished a model for subsequent ideal communities. Bacon focused on politics and philosophy, emphasizing the duty of the state toward science. Despite the authors' differences in setting and treatment, each of these 17th-century classics mirrors the period's prevailing thought, reflecting the idealism of an age and its revolutionary trends in philosophy.

Book Information

Paperback: 96 pages

Publisher: Dover Publications; 6.2.2003 edition (July 2, 2003)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 0486430820

ISBN-13: 978-0486430829

Product Dimensions: 6.4 x 0.3 x 8.5 inches

Shipping Weight: 5 ounces (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 4.0 out of 5 stars 30 customer reviews

Best Sellers Rank: #689,915 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #88 in Books > Politics & Social Sciences > Politics & Government > Ideologies & Doctrines > Utopian #1164 in Books > Politics & Social Sciences > Politics & Government > Ideologies & Doctrines > Communism & Socialism #2381 in Books > Literature & Fiction > World Literature > European

Customer Reviews

The Philosophical Research Society is a nonprofit organization founded in 1934 for the purpose of assisting thoughtful persons to live more graciously and constructively in a confused and troubled world. The Society is entirely free from educational, political, or ecclesiastical control. Dedicated to an idealistic approach to the solution of human problems, the Society's program stresses the need for the integration of religion, philosophy, and the science of psychology into one system of instruction. The goal of this instruction is to enable the individual to develop a mature philosophy of life, to recognize his proper responsibilities and opportunities, and to understand and appreciate his place in the unfolding universal pattern. --This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.

The New Atlantis by Lord Bacon is one of the most important of the Utopian writings because it envisions the advancements in all branches of learning in the Western Hemisphere. Strangely enough, Plato's description of the ancient Atlantean empire and Bacon's New Atlantis both end suddenly in the middle of a sentence. In 1660 a mysterious person known only as R.H. Esquire attempted to complete Bacon's unfinished book. There was never but one edition of New Atlantis Continued by R.H. Esquire. This extremely rare literary curiosity belongs in all collections of Elizabethan literature and is invaluable to students of Bacon's writings and the Bacon-Shakespeare controversy. The new edition is reset for the convenience of the modern reader, but there are no changes except the modernization of spelling and punctuation. The discussion of heraldry is of great interest to those collecting emblem books and cryptographic material in general. Certain errors in pagination may be intentional and pages in which these occur are reproduced in facsimile. Tenison, Archbishop of Canterbury, notes that this book is "a great and hardy venture to finish after Lord Verulam's pencil." Sir Edwin Durning-Lawrence considers this book the most significant of Utopian publications. The volume also contains a poem by George Herbert honoring Lord Bacon. For this publication, Manly P. Hall has provided an introduction suggesting the scope of the work. This edition of New Atlantis Continued is limited to one thousand copies and is likely to be the only printing available to scholars for many years to come. --This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.

Anything Francis Bacon writes is fascinating. The New Atlantis is actually a description of what we are now living in. Bacon describes this quite clearly in this writing of a journey he takes. Well worth the time to read the content. Bacon's style captures a descriptive element that shows he had a far reaching insight into the future. He lived in the sixteenth century and could see the twenty-first century.

interesting

very good

This is a classic, and since I was playing the part of Sir Francis Bacon at a "Night of the Notables" meeting of great philosophers, this was one of my top choices for my research, along with the complete essays. Greatly enjoyed the book and all the philosophical concepts that are woven into the story.

Interesting early utopian novel.

This is a fascinating insight into one of the greatest literary minds of all time. Shakespearean one might say ;)

Small book that will take a long time to get.

A great short story read, especially for any Freemason

Download to continue reading...

The New Atlantis and The City of the Sun: Two Classic Utopias Angel in the Forest: A Fairy Tale of Two Utopias (American Literature (Dalkey Archive)) New Deal Utopias The Mortal Instruments, the Complete Collection(City of Bones/ City of Ashes/ City of Glass/ City of Fallen Angels/ City of Lost Souls/ City of Heavenly Fire) Intercultural Utopias: Public Intellectuals, Cultural Experimentation, and Ethnic Pluralism in Colombia (Latin America Otherwise) Mirage of Health: Utopias, Progress, and Biological Change Engineering Labour: Technical Workers in Comparative Perspective (Real Utopias Project; 2) Perfect Cities: Chicago's Utopias of 1893 Envisioning Real Utopias America's Communal Utopias Two by Two Bassoon Duets (Faber Edition: Two by Two) New York City Travel Guide: 101 Coolest Things to Do in New York City (New York Travel Guide, NYC Travel Guide, Travel to NYC, Budget Travel New York, Backpacking New York) DK Readers: Atlantis, The Lost City (Level 4: Proficient Readers) Atlantis of the Sands: The Search for the Lost City of Ubar Cassandra Clare: The Mortal Instruments Series (5 books): City of Bones; City of Ashes; City of Glass; City of Fallen Angels, City of Lost Souls Why Place Matters: Geography, Identity, and Civic Life in Modern America (New Atlantis Books) Conures as Pets: Including Information about Sun Conures and Green-Cheeked Conures: Care, training, breeding, diet, lifespan, sounds, behavior, ... Cheeked Parakeet and Sun Parakeet comparison Two Islands, Two Couples, Two Camper Vans: A New Zealand Travel Adventure Sun Up, Sun Down: The Story of Day and Night (Science Works) Mystic Medusa's Sun Signs and Soul Mating: What Your Friends Won't Tell You, Your Sun Sign Will

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help