The Jewel Tea Company: Its History And Products (A Schiffer Book For Collectors)

Synopsis

The Jewel Tea Company of Chicago, Illinois reached a national market for its household products through salesmen and mail order catalogs from 1901 until 1981. The company's Autumn Leaf Pattern china-featured throughout the text-was widely distributed and frequently graced dinner tables earlier this century. It is fondly remembered and sought by today's collectors. Rarely seen Autumn Leaf wares are explored along with a brilliant assortment of better known pieces. A combination of modern color and historic black and white photographs chronicle the staggering array of Jewel Tea wares including china, cookware, coffee and teapots, premium products, children's toys, and more. There is something for everyone in this impressive, photograph-filled and thoroughly researched text with price guide.

Customer Reviews

C.L. Miller, an avid collector of Jewel Tea products, has spent the last two years compiling this volume. He calls central Ohio home.

I bought this for a gift for my daughter for Christmas. I had already given her all of her great grandmothers collection of Jewel dishes and accessories that numbers in the hundreds of pieces. There are enough for 14, 7 piece settings, casseroles, bowls, tea pot, coffee pot and on and on. The book seems wonderful and as we all grew up with these dishes it is a great way for us to see how Granma had collected them all over the decades. We all remember Granma talking about the Jewel Tea Man delivering her groceries and dishes.

Great reference for my Jewel Tea Collection.

This was exactly what I needed to catalog my family's Jewel Tea collection. I am extremely happy with this purchase!

I would highly recommend this book and its partner book "Jewel Tea: Sales and Houseware Collectibles" :to anyone who is interested in Jewel Tea and/or collecting it. This book is everything I had hoped for and more. It answers a lot of questions and has some very interesting facts.

I loved the book. My father sold Jewel Tea in the 1940's to late 50's or early 60's. I thought I have a pretty good collection but after reading the book I don't have a drop in a bucket so to speak. I had fun seeing what my stuff would go for.

This book made information available of items made in the 1940's and 50's. While searching antique shops the information enclosed help make wise purchases. The photographs and connected text are easy to follow. it is high quality and I would recommend this book to collectors.

Jo Anne Pottle

Great condition and very informative book.

I was proud to give this book to a seasoned Jewel Tea collector. Something she didn't have and from my brief "glance through" looked very interesting.
